HOAG MEMORIAL HOSPITAL PRESBYTERIAN
NEWPORT TECHNOLOGY CENTER

Newport Beach, CA

This project is a tenant improvement of an existing office building re-envisioned as a state of the art outpatient imaging center. The unique design challenge was converting industrial space into a high-end outpatient facility that is OSHPD approved, yet “doesn’t feel like a hospital.”

The renovation emphasizes client comfort and convenience. To help alleviate anxiety associated with lengthy diagnostic procedures, calming elements are inherent in the interior details. Warm wood detailing and soothing colors of the ocean create a harmonious space that the client wanted.

PROJECT DATA

Size	36,000 sq. ft.
Cost	$16.3 million
Completed	2011
Client	Hoag Memorial Hospital
Architect	RBB Architects
Awards	AIA Design Award